

IT'S WHO WE ARE.

As American Indian parents, we have always taught our children to be active and to participate in many physical activities.

PROUD. STRONG. ACTIVE.

Today we can keep the traditions of healthy children and healthy communities alive by encouraging our children to be active and joining them in physical activities for an hour a day. To learn more visit:

WWW.VERBPARENTS.COM

IT'S WHO WE ARE.

As American Indian parents, we have always taught our children to be active and to participate in many physical activities.

PROUD. STRONG. ACTIVE.

Today we can keep the traditions of healthy children and healthy communities alive by encouraging our children to be active and joining them in physical activities for an hour a day. To learn more visit:

WWW.VERBPARENTS.COM

IT'S WHO WE ARE.

As American Indian parents, we have always taught our children to be active and to participate in many physical activities.

PROUD. STRONG. ACTIVE.

Today we can keep the traditions of healthy children and healthy communities alive by encouraging our children to be active and joining them in physical activities for an hour a day. To learn more visit:

WWW.VERBPARENTS.COM

